

THE DAILY NEWS.

THURSDAY, MAY 7, 1874.

JORDAN STONE, Managing Editor.

ELECTION AUGUST 6th, 1874.

FOR SUPPLY OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

COL. STEPHEN D. POOL, OF CRAVEN.

The DAILY NEWS is now the only paper in Raleigh that gives every morning the latest markets and other telegraphic reports. The public should note this fact.

The Sixth Judicial District.

The members of the Democratic Executive Committee for the Sixth Judicial District are requested to meet in Raleigh on Tuesday, the 21st day of June, 1874.

C. M. Cook, Chm'n.

"RESOLVED, That we earnestly recommend to the members of the Democratic-Conservative party to disavow independent candidates and all other disorganizers, and that all support be promptly withdrawn from every aspirant for office who shall oppose the regular nominees of our party."—Resolution adopted by Democratic-Conservative State Executive Committee.

Fifth Congressional District.

The Executive Committee for this District will meet in Greensboro, N. C., on Saturday the 9th of May, for the transaction of important business.

County Executive Committees are requested to take immediate steps for the thorough organization of townships, and for holding county Conventions, preparatory for the District Convention. The time and place for the latter will be designated at an early day.

D. W. Courts, Chm. Ex. Com.

May 1st, 1874.

Congressional, Judicial and Senatorial Conventions.

A Democratic-Conservative Convention for the First Congressional District of North Carolina will be held in Edenton on Thursday, the 28th day of May, 1874, for the purpose of nominating a candidate to represent the District in the 44th Congress of the United States.

At the same time and place Conventions will be held to nominate candidates for Judge and Solicitor of the First Judicial District, and candidates for the Senate in the First Senatorial District.

The counties are requested to hold their primary meetings and appoint delegates to attend these Conventions.

Chairman Con. Ex. Com.

H. E. BAXTER,

Chairman Judicial Committee.

H. A. GILLIAM,

Chairman Senatorial Com.

It is now thought probable that the session of Congress will be extended beyond the 20th of June.

NUMERICALLY speaking, Richmond is well off in the matter of candidates for municipal offices. Their profuseness is liken by the papers of that city unto a plenteous crop of blackberries.

THE Virginia papers keep up a recent session, and are almost unanimous in urging that its constitutionality be tested before the courts.

THE farmers' flank movement in politics in Indiana is creating much enthusiasm, and the signs are that the Farmers' Convention in June will bring about a complete revolution in the parties there.

THE special committee of the House of Representatives on the completion of the Washington monument on Saturday had an excursion to the tomb of the mother of Washington, at Fredericksburg, Va. The party were under the chaperonage of Hon. J. B. SENER, Representative of the Fredericksburg district.

THE Congressional Committee on the Contingent Expenses of the Department of Justice will report extravagance in certain ways; noticeable in carriages for the Department. It will condemn the purchase of the expensive carriage lately disposed of by the Department, and will charge extravagance in the purchase of knives and gold pens.

In speaking the other day of the probable candidates for Congress in this district mention was inadvertently omitted of the aspirations in the direction which Doctor EUGENE GRISWOLD, Superintendent of the Insane Asylum, is said to cherish. We don't think this report in regard to the Doctor is well founded. We give him credit for being too smart to give up a snug berth for the empty honor of running for Congress, with all the chances in favor of his defeat. The Doctor, according to our opinion, is a devout believer in the adage which says, "a bird in hand is worth two in the bush."

Does Mr. THOMAS R. PURNELL, the youthful Republican candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction, endorse the civil rights bill? If he does, will he tell the people of the West that he favors mixed schools, the throwing open of hotels, now kept for white men, to negroes and, in fact, the forcing of social equality to the very furthest extent, and in the minutest detail, to which that law can possibly go. This bill will undoubtedly be passed by our Republican Congress, and will be before the white men of the West and endorsed? If he does not, will he squarely and unequivocally tell the negroes of the East of his disapproval? Mr. PURNELL should be made to show his hand in this matter.

SOME $230,000 have been collected for the Washington Monument and all expended but $15,000. The question is asked how all this money could have honestly been expended in erecting an ugly, square tower 174 feet high, but not answered. The monument is now the property of a society, who are very anxious to turn it over to the Government for completion. It is proposed to carry up the shaft 437 feet, and the cost of completing the structure is estimated at $325,000.

BEFORE the recent adjournment of the Virginia Legislature a sub-committee was appointed from the joint committee on constitutional amendments to prepare such changes as may be thought necessary in the State Constitution, and submit them for the consideration of the General Assembly at its session next winter. Messrs. H. W. THOMAS and J. T. KIRKPATRICK, of the Senate, and J. H. DOOLEY, A. H. H. STUART, W. B. TALIFERRO, S. H. BOYKIN and G. C. WHARTON compose said sub-committee.

THE report of the committee investigating the SANBORN contracts does not throw any light on the mystery of SANBORN'S powerful influence over the Treasury Department. Mr. BOUTWELL and Mr. RICHARDSON are thoroughly whitewashed, and the verdict has sufficient elasticity to screen all subordinates and go-betweens. The only result of the investigation will be the repeal of the law under which the contracts were made and the annulling of all contracts now existing. That fraud and corruption did exist everybody is satisfied, and it is patent that it has been purposely covered up.

THE crop prospect in the West is said to be encouraging notwithstanding the backwardness of the Spring season. Little damage has been done by the frost to the fruit crop. In the Far West, as in Minnesota and Wisconsin, farming operations have been retarded, but a fair yield of the cereals is looked for. Only in parts of Maryland and Delaware has the frost done any considerable damage to the fruit. As a general thing in this State the prospect for a splendid wheat yield is looked for in many sections. The fruit in nearly all portions of the State has escaped with but little damage. Cotton operations have been considerably delayed, but there is hope that no very material injury will ensue from this.

THERE is not now much doubt but that the President will speedily interfere in Arkansas affairs. Violence has occurred and blood spilt. Judges of Courts and State officers have been arrested. The rival Governors are daily receiving accessions to their ranks, and are drilling and parading their troops in sight of each other. The presence of a passive body of men, who are not prepared to prevent bloodshed and personal outrage. Whose claims to authority the President will recognize and support it is not now possible to say, but if the authority of the State courts is powerless to give protection to peaceable citizens, some measure to that end should be exercised until the present controversy can be fairly and equitably adjusted.

IF all the late particulars of the triumphant entry of Marshal SERRANO into Bilbao be true, we may expect a comparative lull in the efforts of the Carlists in Spain for some time. Though the main bodies of DON CARLOS' adherents may be dispersed, yet the flame of civil war from this source will not be entirely suppressed. It may smoulder for one, two, or possibly five years, but it is sure to burst out in vigor on every opportunity offered by the weakness of the powers that be. The wealthy and more intelligent classes in Spain are favorable to a monarchical form of government and advocate the claims of DON CARLOS.

We daily receive letters from various sections of the State expressive of gratification at the nomination of Colonel STEPHEN D. POOL as the Conservative-Democratic candidate for the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction. All agree that he is the man for the place, and that he will not only carry the full strength of his own party, but will have the support of those Republicans who feel too much interest in the cause of education to lend their aid in placing at the head of educational affairs in this State an unsettled and unmatured young man like Mr. PURNELL. The State is too poor to make such an experiment, for all the chances are that it would result in a disastrous failure. North Carolina is not in a position to venture upon the experiment of transferring a young man without the least experience, almost fresh from the halls of college, to an office of difficulty, and one requiring executive ability in a high degree. Mr. POOL is a gentleman who has had large experience as an educator, and is known to possess those qualities which fit one for the discharge of the important duties devolving upon the office for which he is a candidate. We are sincerely glad that the action of the Executive Committee in nominating Col. POOL meets with such a hearty and universal endorsement. He is in every way worthy of the confidence reposed in him by his fellow-citizens, and will make the State a most zealous and efficient officer.

THE Senate Committee on Pensions are soon to report a bill in relation to the soldiers of the war of 1812. The bill will extend the benefits of the Pension laws to all survivors of the last war with Great Britain without regard to length of their time of service, and will restore to the rolls those whose names were dropped on account of actual or supposed aid to or sympathy with the late struggle of the South.

THE announcement that Memorial ceremonies would take place in this city on Monday, the 11th inst., has already been made in this paper. The orator on this occasion, who will speak of those whose memory is to be honored, is a gentleman who won for himself on the field of battle a high reputation for all the characteristics looked for in the composition of a gallant soldier. Allusion is, of course, made to Gen. W. R. COX. Brave himself he can fittingly and tenderly eulogize the deeds of those whose graves are to be decorated with votive tributes.

These Memorial ceremonies are eminently right and proper. Though they may bring up freshly sorrows that have been soothed by time, yet they bring in their train a soft feeling of melancholy pleasure, as it allows a deep inward affection to give an outward manifestation of its existence. They are proper more as a mark of a NATION'S grief than individual sorrow. Tears may soften the sod over kith and kin, and fond but torn hearts lavish a wealth of love upon the memory of a lost one, but each soldier's grave is a typical urn holding the ashes of a proud but overwhelmed people's hopes.

The rolling years may deaden to some extent the poignancy of the anguish created by individual loss, or caused by the blighting of patriotic hopes, but once a year at least should common sufferers in a common cause meet together and join in a tribute of devotion to a cause, though dead to the living present, yet living in the justice of the future, and made inexpressibly dear by the obliteration of the life-blood of kindred, friends and countrymen.

Gov. Kemper's suggestion that a commission be appointed to revise and amend the Virginia Constitution has set the West Virginia people to considering whether their own Constitution cannot be improved in the same way. The Wheeling Intelligencer approves of the plan, but wishes to be delivered from any more Constitutional conventions "with their interminable gabble." A commission of five men, chosen from all parties, it thinks, could remove the present objectionable features with comparatively little expense.

Says the Wilmington Star of the 5th inst:

"A very large congregation assembled at St. Thomas' Catholic Church, on Sunday last, the occasion being the unveiling of a beautiful statue of the Sacred Heart. This statue is a life-size representation of the Saviour and a very handsome affair. It was constructed at Bavaria, in Europe, from whence it was received for St. Thomas' church in this place. The services commenced at the usual hour and Rev. Father White sang High Mass, and an able sermon, explaining the devotion of the Sacred Heart, was delivered by the Rev. J. Riley, of Fayetteville. The statue is placed upon an altar to the right of the sanctuary and adds much to the attractiveness of the church. At the conclusion of the services, the act of consecration was read. At the same time the relic of the True Cross, lately brought here from Europe, was exposed for the inspection of the congregation."

The Latest Fool's Errand.

An interesting incident will pass through the Continent this summer. Sergeant Bates, it is said, will on May 10th leave the United States for Europe with two ex-soldiers of France and Germany, and after passing through London will proceed to Paris. In London arrangements are to be made with an ex-soldier of each of the other countries of Europe to join him in the "Grand International March of the Nineteenth Century."

The sergeant and ex-soldiers, each bearing the stars from Calais to St. Petersburg through all the capitals of the Continent. Negotiations are in progress to persuade an Irish home ruler to carry the green flag of Erin. A white silk banner, with the motto "Peace in Europe," is also to be carried, if possible by a negro.

The progress of these standard-bearers will be a magnificent spectacle, and will be watched with the deepest interest by the civilized world, by the "Grand International March of the Nineteenth Century" to render the "Grand International March of the Nineteenth Century" a really striking success.

Sergeant Bates and his companions should pay a visit with their flags to some regular bloodthirsty barbarians.

Way not land on the west coast of Africa and march straight to Coonville, taking Europe on the return journey, King Koffie bringing up the procession with his umbrella, lent by the South Kensington Museum for the occasion.—Pull Mall Gazette.

A NEW VERSION OF IT.—One day, in a fit of abstraction, the juvenile George cut down Bushrod's favorite cherry tree with a hatchet. But the old gentleman came sailing round the corner of the barn just as the future father of his country started on the retreat. "Look here, sonny," thundered the stern old Virginian, "who cut that tree down?" George reflected a moment. There wasn't another boy or another hatchet within fifteen miles. Besides it occurred to him that to be virtuous is to be happy. Just as Washington, Senior, turned to go in and get his horse, whip, our little hero burst into tears, and, nestling among his father's coat tails, exclaimed, "Father, I cannot tell lie. It must have been a frost."

"My son, my son," stammered the fond parent, as he made a pass for his offspring, "when you get to be first in war and first in peace, just cover your back pay in the Treasury, and let the newspaper press will respect you."
